The total athlete quota for rowing is, in fact, only 550 (358 men, 192 women). Though the qualified number is greater than this many nations will not use their full athlete quota (either through choice or obligation) as some rowers will be selected for more than one event. Any returned quotas, reducing the total athlete number below 550, may be reallocated to the Host Nation, reserves from the Final Qualification Regatta or Tripartite Commission Invitational places.
